About our Keynote Speaker

Patrick J. Byrne | Cleveland USA

Patrick J. Byrne is the Enterprise Chief of Surgical Specialties for Cleveland Clinic. In this role, Dr. Byrne leads Cleveland Clinic's efforts to become a world leader in patient care, outcomes, education, safety, innovation and research across the surgical specialties. He also serves as Chair of Cleveland Clinic's Head and Neck Institute. Dr. Byrne also serves as the co-Director of the Randolph B Capone Cleft and Palate Program at Greater Baltimore Medical Center. Previously, Dr. Byrne was the Director of the Division of Facial Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery in the Department of Otolaryngology/Head and Neck Surgery at The Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, Maryland. There, he directed the Facial Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery Fellowship program, as well as co-directed the Johns Hopkins Face Transplant Program. He served as a medical director for Johns Hopkins Medicine International for many years.

Dr. Byrne is an internationally recognised facial plastic and reconstructive surgeon, focusing on microsurgical facial reconstruction, skin cancer management, and facial aesthetic surgery. He has over 130 peer reviewed publications in the field. He is a leader in the treatment of facial paralysis, having led and contributed to multiple surgical innovations in this field. He has a longstanding commitment to service, and leads volunteer teams worldwide, including providing surgical care to children with facial deformities in Nicaragua and many other developing countries.
